Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 05 November 2003.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL.                      2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-18 and 44-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hamada et al. (6,086,485) in view of Vincent et al. (6,592,468). Regarding claims 1, 2, and 6, Hamada discloses a golf club head comprising: a striking face 13 including a rearwardly sloped front side and a rear side, a sole portion 11 extending from the lower region of the rear side and a hole 17 or recess extending into the sole portion (Figure 4). Hamada also discusses an alternative embodiment as shown in Figure 6 where a filling portion 21 having substance of small specific gravity can be filled in the hollow portion 19 or hole 17. The addition of the filling portion in the head allows the center of gravity to be shifted to the rearward end and such configuration eliminates undesirable deflection of shots (Col. 6, lines 46-55). Hamada does not disclose the specific filling material as being a resilient insert. Vincent discloses that the substrate 71 (insert) have sufficient hardness and elasticity to dissipate energy (Col. 7, lines 49-60). In addition, it would have been obvious in view of Vincent to one having ordinary skill in the art to optimize the insert hardness to maximize dissipation of energy. Thus, it would have been obvious and desirable in view of Vincent to one having ordinary skill in the art to substitute the substrate of Vincent in lieu of the filing portion of Hamada in order to control the center of gravity and dissipate energy. Regarding claims 3, 4, 7, and 10, Vincent teaches a resilient insert assembly forming of a sleeve 90 positioned proximate cartridge 80 (Figs. 7-7 and Col. 8, lines 58-65), which constitutes a first and second insert. Regarding claim 5, Vincent discloses the first insert, cartridge material made of a metal substrate filled with polymeric material (Col. 3, lines 15-22) and the second insert, substrate made of polymeric material, which has different hardness than the cartridge. Regarding claims 8 and 9, the forwardly projection and the rearwardly indentation of the first and second inserts in the claimed invention are obvious design features to facilitate attachment of the two inserts and such configuration is within the level of ordinary skill in the art. Regarding claim 11, Vincent discloses the insert material of the claimed invention (Col. 7, lines 49-50). Regarding claim 12, it is conventional to provide a cap or cover plate and it would have been obvious to do so here in order to provide indentation graphics or manufacturer logos in the cap. Claims 13-18 and 44-50 recite limitations similar to claims 1-12, above; thus, claims 13-18 and 44-50 are rejected for the same reasons as described above.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-18 and 44-50 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Art Unit: 3711

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

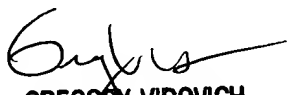

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
